The UCLA Bixby Center on Population and Reproductive Health Proudly Presents:

Female Condom Introduction in Sub-Saharan Africa: Challenges and Lessons Learned

Caroline Maposphere, RN

Caroline is a nurse, midwife, and freelance sexual health consultant with extensive experience at the local, national, and international level working on HIV, gender and reproductive health research, and policy development programs in Zimbabwe. She developed the National Female Condom Strategy for Zimbabwe and worked for the Ministry of Health and Child Welfare for over ten years.

Wednesday, November 12th, 2014
12:00-1:00 PM
Lunch will be provided

UCLA Fielding School of Public Health
17-323 CHS (Bel-Air Conference Room)