

HIV and the Carceral State: Researching Effects on Health Outcomes

CHIPTS

2022 HIV Next Generation Conference

December 2, 2022

Friday, 11:35 AM - 12:10 PM, PST

Felipe Findley

PA-C, MAPS, AAHIVS, Physician Assistant

Watts Healthcare Corporation and Member
CHIPTS Community Advisory Board
Commissioner, LA County HIV Commission

Vanessa Warri
MSW, Ph.D. Student

UCLA Luskin School of Public Affairs, Department of Social Welfare
Center for the Study of Women

POLICY IMPACT CORE

Key Focus

Populations made vulnerable by changes to health policy, experiences that lead to medical mistrust and over-engagement with systems of criminalization.

CARCERAL STATE

"Yes, the carceral state encompasses the formal institutions and operations and economies of the criminal justice system proper, but it also encompasses logics, ideologies, practices, and structures, that invest in tangible and sometimes intangible ways in punitive orientations to difference, to poverty, to struggles to social justice and to the crossers of constructed borders of all kinds."

- Ruby Tapia, U-M English and Women's Studies

SYSTEMIC RACISM

“Policies and practices that exist throughout a whole society or organization, and that result in and support a continued unfair advantage to some people and unfair or harmful treatment of others based on race.”

-Cambridge Dictionary

KNOWLEDGE PRODUCTION

“Critical Race Theory can contribute the following: a comprehensive framework for connecting these research endeavors, a vocabulary for advancing understandings of racial constructs and phenomena, critical analyses of knowledge production processes, and praxis that builds on community-based participatory approaches linking research, practice, and communities.”

-Ford and Airhihenbuwa (2010)

Thank you!

For Policy Impact Core policy briefs, visit:

<https://chipts.ucla.edu/resources/>

