

ENDING AIDS IN THE UNITED STATES: HOUSING, HEALTHCARE ACCESS, AND HUMAN RIGHTS

a talk by

Charles King

Co-Founder and President/CEO, Housing Works, Inc.

Thursday, March 31, 2016 / 12:15 to 1:20 p.m. / Rm. 1420

Highlighting how Housing Works' impact litigation on homelessness, disability, public assistance, and LGBT discrimination helped lay the groundwork for ending the AIDS epidemic in New York, Charles King will discuss New York's plan to end the epidemic by 2020 and how it can serve as a model for ending the epidemic in the United States.

Cosponsored by the Critical Race Studies Program, David J. Epstein Program in Public Interest Law and Policy, Health Law Society, Health Policy and Management Student Association, Los Angeles HIV Law and Policy Project and Williams Institute
